New Grant Submission Deadlines Now In Effect

All applications for external grant support must be approved by the UConn Sponsored Program Services (SPS) before submission to the sponsor. In December 2020, SPS announced new deadlines for submission of grant proposals. As previously announced, these new timelines are being enforced by SPS since 5th May 2021. They are intended to allow adequate time for SPS to review the grant application and supporting documents to ensure a smooth and on-time submission. The SPS deadlines are represented in the graphic below:

Full Business Days Before Submission Deadline

>6 days: PI provides application components to local grants administrator (or Faculty Services)

5 days: Complete application (plus draft scientific components) and IPR submitted to SPS

5-2 days: SPS reviews proposal and provides feedback

2 days: Corrections made and all approvals in place

Noon day before deadline: Final proposal and PI authorization to submit to sponsor provided to SPS

1-0 days before deadline: Proposal submitted

The above SPS deadlines pertain to when components of the grant application must be sent to SPS by the SDM Research Office. Therefore, to meet these SPS deadlines, we needed to establish earlier timelines for the various components to be completed by and/or provided to the SDM Research Office. This applies to all grant-related submissions (including progress reports), being submitted by faculty and trainees.

Effective 5th May 2021, the SDM grant submission timelines are as follows:

As early as possible but no less than 21 business days before submission deadline: Inform Laura Didden of plan to submit and begin working with her on a budget (28 business days if a subcontract is involved). Laura will provide you with specific internal due dates based on the sponsor due date.

9 business days before submission deadline: Provide the final Budget Justification and draft Abstract so that routing can start.

6 business days before submission deadline: Provide all remaining documents in near-final form (except the research section).

9 am on the business day before submission deadline: Provide final research section.

A sincere thanks to each of you for your understanding and cooperation with these new timelines. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Important New NIH Requirement

For all applications and progress reports submitted for due dates on or after May 25th, new, updated Biosketch and Other Support forms will be required.

Changes to the Other Support Format Page:

- The format page has been reorganized to separate funded projects from in-kind contributions.
- A signature block has been added, for Program Director/Principal Investigator or Other Senior/Key Personnel to certify the accuracy of the information submitted. Each PD/PI and Senior/Key Personnel must electronically sign their respective Other Support form as a PDF prior to submission.
- For Other support submissions that include foreign activities and resources, recipients are required to submit copies of contracts, grants or any other agreements specific to senior/key personnel foreign appointments and/or employment with a foreign institution as supporting documentation. If they are not in English, recipients must provide a translated copy. This supporting documentation must be provided as part of the Other Support PDF following the Other Support Format page.

Changes to the Biographical Sketch Format Page:

- Section B "Positions and Honors" has been renamed "Positions, Scientific Appointments, and Honors".
- For the Non-Fellowship Biosketch, Section D (previously research support) has been removed.
- For the Fellowship Biosketch, Section D has been updated to remove "Research Support".
- As applicable, all applicants may include details on ongoing and completed research projects from the past three years that they want to draw attention to within the personal statement, Section A.

Additional information regarding Other Support, required supporting documentation, notifications of undisclosed information and other details may be found at: NOT-OD-21-073. Information on Active and Pending Support is available on the OVPR SPS website at this Link.

Research Resources

Lincus Software

The Office of Vice President of Research has developed a software program for UConn faculty, staff and students that allows you to easily search the research topics and publications of our faculty. This requires the use of your Net ID and password to enter the system. Please try it out since it could be invaluable for helping you to locate existing equipment and expertise here at UConn that might further your own research. It's kind of fun because you get a map of who you have published with and a list of keywords associated with your research. To access the program: <http://lincus.uconn.edu>

Pre-submission Reviews of Grant Proposals

UConn has a contract with a research consulting firm called Hanover Research. They provide a range of services including pre-submission reviews of grant proposals and helping faculty incorporate feedback for resubmission. They work on one project at a time for the University so requests are prioritized based on strategic needs and deadlines. SDM faculty are encouraged to consider applying to utilize their services.

If interested, please email Laura Didden (ldidden@uchc.edu), well in advance of your submission deadline.

Scientific Editing Support for Grants and Manuscripts

SDM has arranged for the Science Editors Network to provide scientific editing services to our faculty. These services will be available for both grants and manuscripts. This service is available to all faculty with primary appointment in the SDM, including research-focused as well as clinical faculty. There will be no financial cost to the faculty member/Division for this service.

The Science Editors Network is a group of scientific writing experts with PhD degrees in the biomedical sciences and related fields. Their editors are handpicked for their diverse research training and mastery of science communication. They have been highly recommended by multiple sources, including colleagues at UConn who have worked with them. Additional information is at <http://www.scienceeditorsnetwork.com/>

We also continue to have access to the services of Hanover Research, which has provided grant editing services to several SDM faculty over the last year, under a contract with UConn at the university level.

To avail of these scientific editing services, please contact Laura Didden at ldidden@uchc.edu. We will track the usage of this service and faculty feedback to inform us of the need for additional or alternative methods of providing such support, including the potential hiring of a dedicated, in-house resource.

Research Dean's Corner

Dear Colleagues,

I am happy to report that the SDM research program is doing extremely well, based on objective measures. We recently announced that the SDM now ranks 8th out of all 67 US dental schools in terms of overall direct research funding from NIH (all institutes and centers), significantly up from 16th in the previous year. It is especially note-worthy that this ranking of NIH funding is not adjusted for school size. Our School is ranked alongside and ahead of many larger and research-intensive schools.

More good news came recently from an OVPR report showing that for the first 9 months of the current fiscal year, the SDM received $12.7M in new funding (total project value for all years of the grant). This compares to $6.3M as the highest comparable amount in the prior 5 years. This report also shows that the SDM is making significant progress in terms of Technology Commercialization. In FY20 and FY21 to date, the number of invention disclosures and patents filed from the SDM are sharply higher compared to previous years.

I am also proud to note that the staff of the SDM Research Office were recognized by Dr. Andy with the UCH PAWS TEAM award in May 2021. As our research programs have grown, the research office staff have performed very well and they are highly deserving of this recognition. Please join me in congratulating and thanking them for their efforts.

Best wishes,
